Gordan Leedy was invite to the meeting to give the Trustees landscaping suggestions regarding Forestview Cemetery. Lisa states that one of the first issues that they would like to remedy is border between the cemetery and the Grasset property. Due to growing time they would like it started sooner farther than later. The suggested list of recommended trees and prices given to the Trustees from Amherst Garden is referred to. The trustees are considering prices and life span. There are several spots that are in need of landscaping: the area to be used for a memorial wall; an area for a scatter garden; a reflection area by the brook would be really nice. The Trustees have discussed memorial trees, choosing from a menu of desired trees and placed in specific locations, possibly along the edge. The main entrance may be the gate farthest from Ponemah Rd., landscaping should acknowledge the main entrance. Is it possible for Gordon to come up with some ideas and the Trustees will have a meeting specifically to discuss landscaping. Arborvitae, white spruce, balsam fir, eastern red cedar is discussed. Gordon asks about what the Trustees ideas are regarding a memorial wall. Lisa states that the trustees are leaning more towards some type of wall people who would scatter or cremation that may not have a spot on the ground but they would have it on the wall. They are going more towards the simple black granite. The scatter garden, there is a portion of phase one left open specifically for scattering. Gordon will return for the September meeting with plans and ideas.

Discussion:

Scatter garden: Marie met with Jean Johnson, a master gardener. Jean drew up a plan for the Cemetery Trustees. It was agreed upon that the current scatter garden will have to be removed and redone. Jean has suggested different plants that flower at different time of the year so that there will always be flowers there. Perry Day will try to located granite pieces that will serve as a bench. Marie and Jean discussed markers and pea stone, these are expenses that would be charged to the Cemetery budget. If anything needs to be purchased, Jean would purchase it and the Trustees would reimburse her. Jean may be working under the garden club, Marie will inquiry.

Graves at Town Hall:

Perry lets the Trustees know that there is a little bit of erosion on 2 of the tombs. He did cover it with concrete slabs and has spoken with the State of NH archeologist; they did state that they would not get involved in this. There has not been any further erosion and Perry will be repair it

Fence at Cricket Corner:

Acme Pressure washing will be contacted to pressure wash this fence. Estimates will be obtained and it is possible that the existing budget will cover this cost.
